

Low tide on Porthor beach in winter at Llyn Peninsula, Gwynedd | © National Trust Images/Paul Harris

Nature and climate

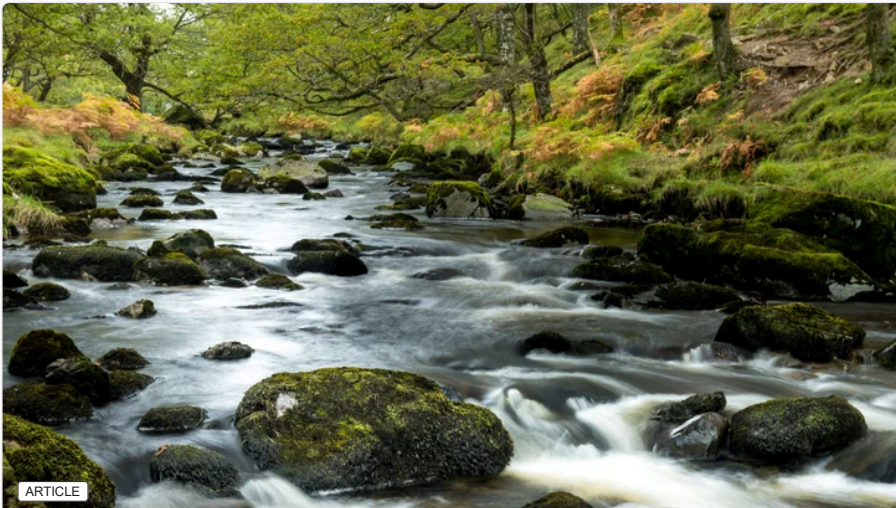

Climate change is the biggest threat to nature and the historic environment. Find out how we're helping wildlife to thrive and working towards sustainability in a changing climate.

Jump to

Nature conservationClimate change and sustainability

Nature conservation

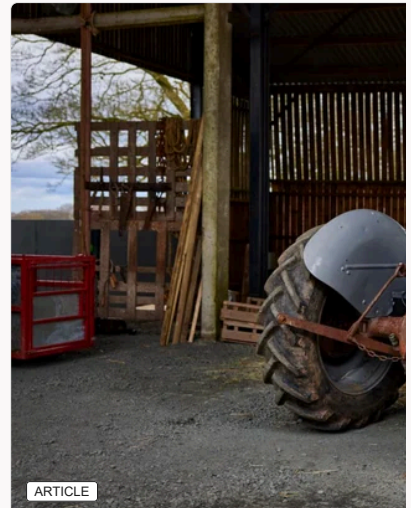

From ancient trees to bees and butterflies, our places are full of life. We're working hard to safeguard nature for years to come.

More about our nature conservation work →

ARTICLE

Freshwater Community Grant Fund →

Community groups are being encouraged to apply for a grant to fund initiatives to improve freshwater habitats at five locations in England.

ARTICLE

Our Dream Farm with Matt Baker →

We've been searching for a tenant farmer to manage a va Dream Farm with Matt Baker – a new TV show on Chann year tenancy on the Wallington estate.

Climate change and sustainability

Discover how we're part of the global fight against climate change, the challenges we face with shifting weather patterns and what we're doing to care for our historic houses and landscapes.

More about our climate change and sustainability work →